Do I Really Have to Teach Reading? Content Comprehension, Grades 6-12 by Cris Tovani What Do Readers Do When They Aren't Given a Purpose? Recently I was encouraging teachers at a summer institute to find engaging, accessible text for students to read. All of a sudden, an arm attached to a gruff-looking principal shot up into the air. Do I really have to teach reading to my gifted and talented students? Of course most these approaches can be utilized by gifted students the same as a lower achieving student, however, these approaches do not seem to be designed for high achieving readers. Do I Really Have to Teach Reading?: Content Comprehension, Grades 6-12. Cris's humor, honesty, and willingness to share her own struggles as a teacher make this a unique take on content reading instruction that will be valuable to reading teachers as well as content specialists.
